Buchanan, Virginia
Volume IX

Happiness Is . . .

Happiness is a state of mind which each person must attain for himself. At James River High each student could find happiness in his own way.

Students could find happiness by being a part of a team and by working for victory. Others gained happiness by supporting the school and its teams.

Many students achieved happiness by maintaining high academic standards while at James River High.

The many friendships formed during high school years brought happiness to everyone.

As the students grew in understanding and became prepared to face the problems of the future, they were aware that by being diligent they would reach their goals and find their own special happiness.

Happiness Is Memories

Concentration towards a definite goal could define thought of the students as they master the tasks of their daily assignments. The importance of learning was stressed by the teachers in an effort to enrich the life of each pupil. To learn is to achieve, to achieve is to become better prepared to lead the fullest life.

Participation, direct or indirect, became very important in the life of the majority of students as soon as the sports season opened with football in the fall. Spirits mounted and the school filled with glow of energies being put to use for the glory of James River High School. The feeling of belonging was expressed in every cheer and clap at the games during the year. During school and after, time was spent towards forming new school records and the fulfillment of school ideals. At the end of each season, the reason for all the time, toil, and talent put on each event was obvious to all who recalled the thrills, disparities, and hopes in past experiences.

Although the year passed with bustling fury the students, especially the seniors, at James River retained many fond memories. Every day was filled with a new, exciting, maybe time-consuming experience. There were joyous as well as serious times. The Seniors participated in their final high school activities, hoping to capture every moment of their remaining high school days.

The primary aim of the faculty of James River High School is to help each student, as an individual, acquire competence in whatever he undertakes. They direct each student in their fields of interest, ability, and to help to strengthen skills in reasoning and logical thinking. The teachers assist each student in reviewing the past to find what direction it points to for the future. The most important aim of all is to inspire them to reach for the most desirable goals in life.

Students Discovered "New" English

A primary function of the English department was to help students acquire competence in reading, writing, and speaking. Composition and public speaking assignments increased the logical thinking and reasoning ability of each student. Using new textbooks, students discovered the modern rules and terms of the English language. Many English students put their knowledge to work writing term papers.

Juniors taking it easy.

Busy freshmen.

Attentive eighth graders.

Mrs. Day helps one of her students.

Seniors--listening or daydreaming?

Math Students Learned Facts, Theorems

Trig students must work.

The mathematics department of James River offered its students a well-rounded program including general courses in eighth and ninth grade math, two years of algebra, a business math, geometry, advanced algebra and trigonometry. These courses enabled each student to build a strong math foundation which will be helpful no matter what career he chooses.

Geometry students discover new forms and sizes.

Eighth graders solve problems at board.

Mr. Johnston watches his Algebra II students at work.

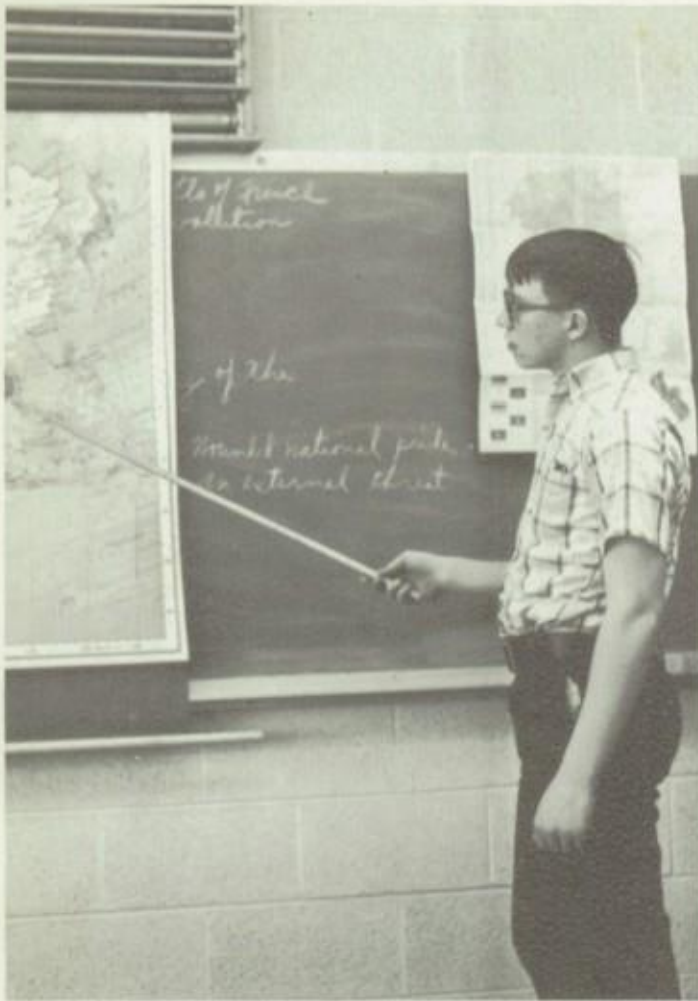

Ready for Algebra I.

Busy in General Math.

Social Studies Lined the Past, Present, and Future

American History class in deep thought.

Students in social studies classes studied the past and present to prepare for the future. Government students learned the basic principles of our government so they will be able to take an active part in our society. American History gave the students a look at their national heritage. Classes in world history showed how the nations influence each other. World geography enabled students to locate the many places they studied.

Is this the right spot?

One eighth grader knows the answer.

World History students wait for the bell.

Government students after a spirited trial.

J. R. "Scientists" Explored and Experimented

Mr. Shotwell keeps a watchful eye on his science class.

Eighth graders ponder the mysteries of science.

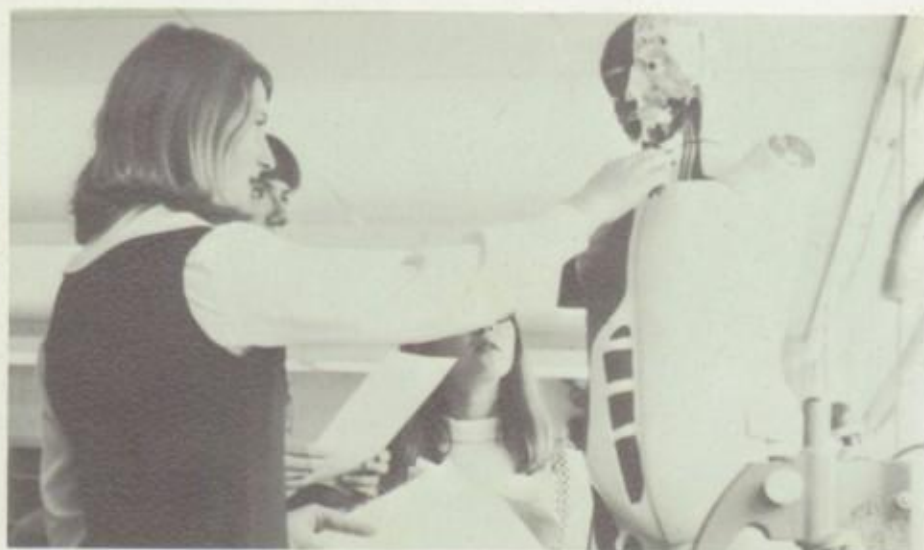

An enthusiastic general science class?

Mrs. Phillips wonders what her biology students are doing.

James River students were given several choices of sciences. In all science classes students were challenged to increase their understanding and knowledge. General science taught the basic scientific facts, and biology was concerned with the study of plants and animals. Chemistry students studied matter's forms and changes, while physics students dealt with energy and motion. Many students worked on projects for the Science Fair.

Advanced biology students learn by using models.

At least part of the chemistry class is paying attention.

Students Gained Proficiency in Foreign Communication

Foreign language classes were a mixture of strange pronunciations, noun declensions, and verb conjugations. However, the two years of study in French or Latin involved more than grammar. Students also studied the cultures of the French and Romans. To increase understanding, Latin students translated many sentences and famous stories. The French classes often used tapes to understand the French pronunciation. Studying a foreign language also helped students better understand the English language.

Veni, vidi, vici.

Mr. Bolton helps his French II class pronounce a word.

Latin II students at work on a translation from Caesar.

Oh, you've got to be kidding.

French I class listens closely.

It's awful to have Latin I sixth period.

Happiness — Your Own Work of Art.

Other pictures help give students ideas.

Bonnie Warf displays her art talent.

In art class students could demonstrate their creative ability. Whether doing sculpture, drawing, or painting each person had his own special touch. The students completed many pictures using charcoal, pastels, and oils. Many clubs in the school looked to the art class whenever they needed posters or pictures. Everyone in school could enjoy the art work which was often displayed in the library.

Mr. LaPlace discusses a filmstrip with the class.

Hurry! I'm getting tired.

Now watch closely.

Speech and Dramatics Class at J. R.

Stanley Fringer gives a speech in class.

The Speech and Dramatics class, taught by Mrs. Bunn, was the first of its kind at James River High. The students read poems, gave speeches, and participated in school plays. The one-act play given by this class went to the state contests.

Mrs. Day helps the class in making costumes.

Look out, I'll drop these!

"Hans" is dead!

Business Classes at James River

Through business courses in James River, a student can learn typing, shorthand, general business, office practice and bookkeeping. Two years of typing develops techniques and accuracy in this skill. Shorthand emphasizes the rapid writing of symbols in dictation, correct spelling, punctuation, and grammatical construction of letters. The correct systems of filing and notation are learned in bookkeeping.

Mrs. Lowman's shorthand II class looks busy.

Future Homemaker's Sew and Cook

Mrs. Deisher measures Linda Smith's garment for hemming.

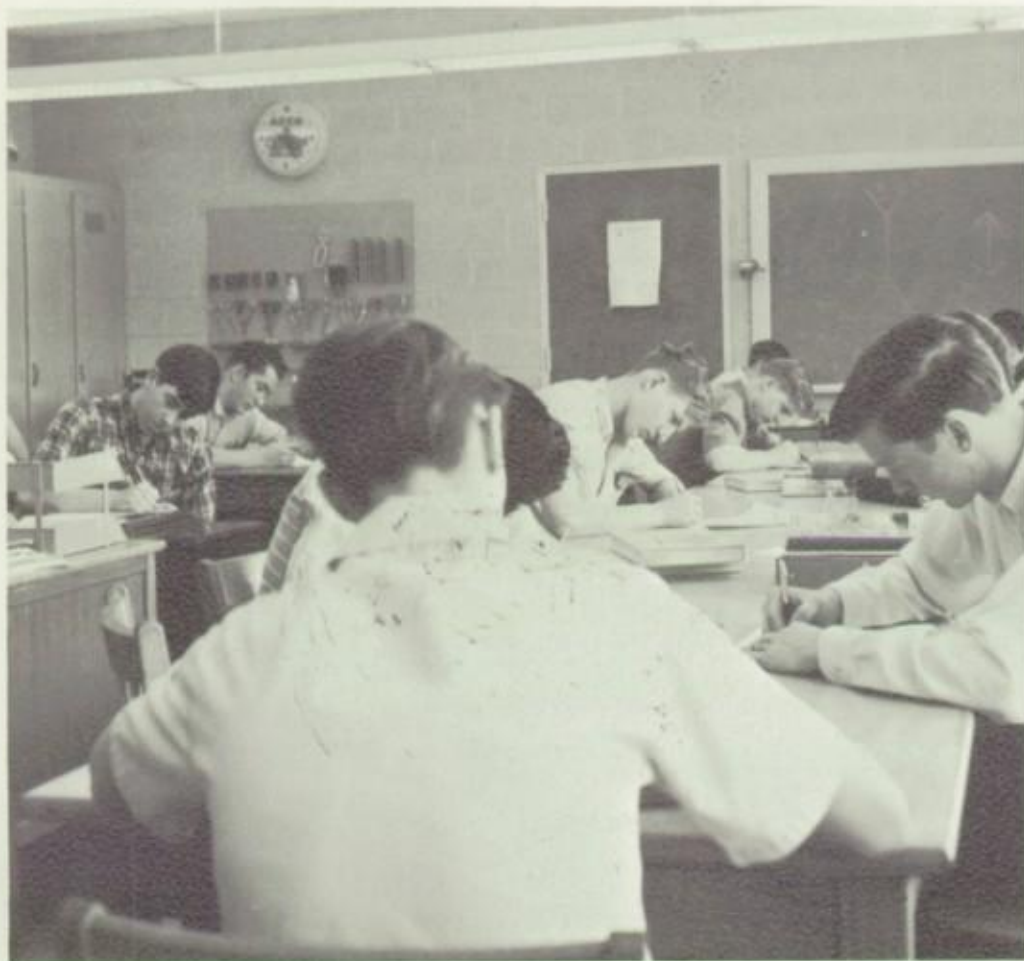

I sure do get tired taking these seams out.

The Homemaking Department, under the direction of Mrs. Helen Deisher and Mrs. Dorothy Kinzie, taught girls all the essentials of a good family. In the foods classes they learned by actual cooking and serving meals. In sewing classes they made articles of clothing for their own use. The department, contained approximately 150 students.

The eighth-grade Home Ec. class watches attentively as Mrs. Kinzie gives a demonstration.

Boy's Home Economics

Is the test hard boys?

Mike Corell and John Mays cooking!?!

Boys at James River could learn the many facets of home-making in their senior year. Mrs. Deisher taught the Senior boys who took the class how to sew and cook. Each boy had the pleasure of constructing a shirt for his use.

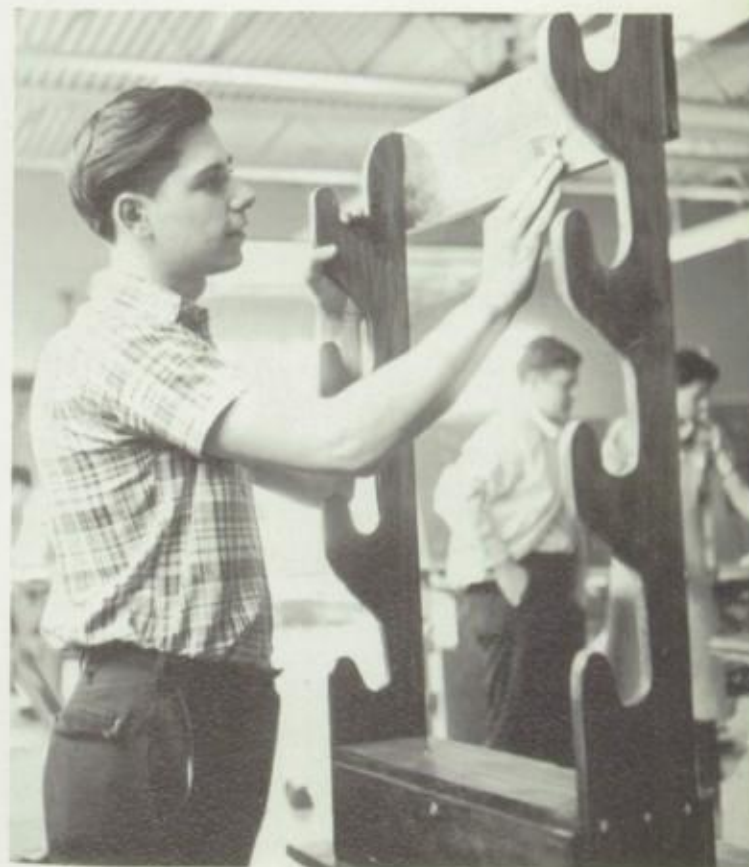

Looking for something fellows?

Shop and Vo. Ag. at

Yes, that's right.

Boys at J. R. could learn the art of making many articles in shop. They learned the skills envolved in wood making. Mr. Neal taught the class.

Ah! That is beginning to look good!

Now it is done like this.

James River High School

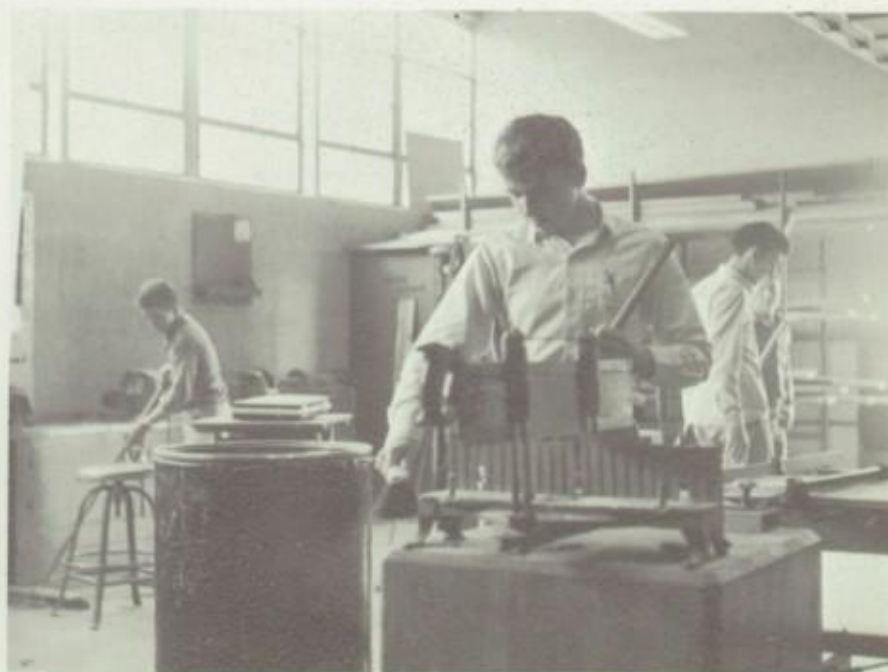

It's like this...

Maybe if we all help we can get it done.

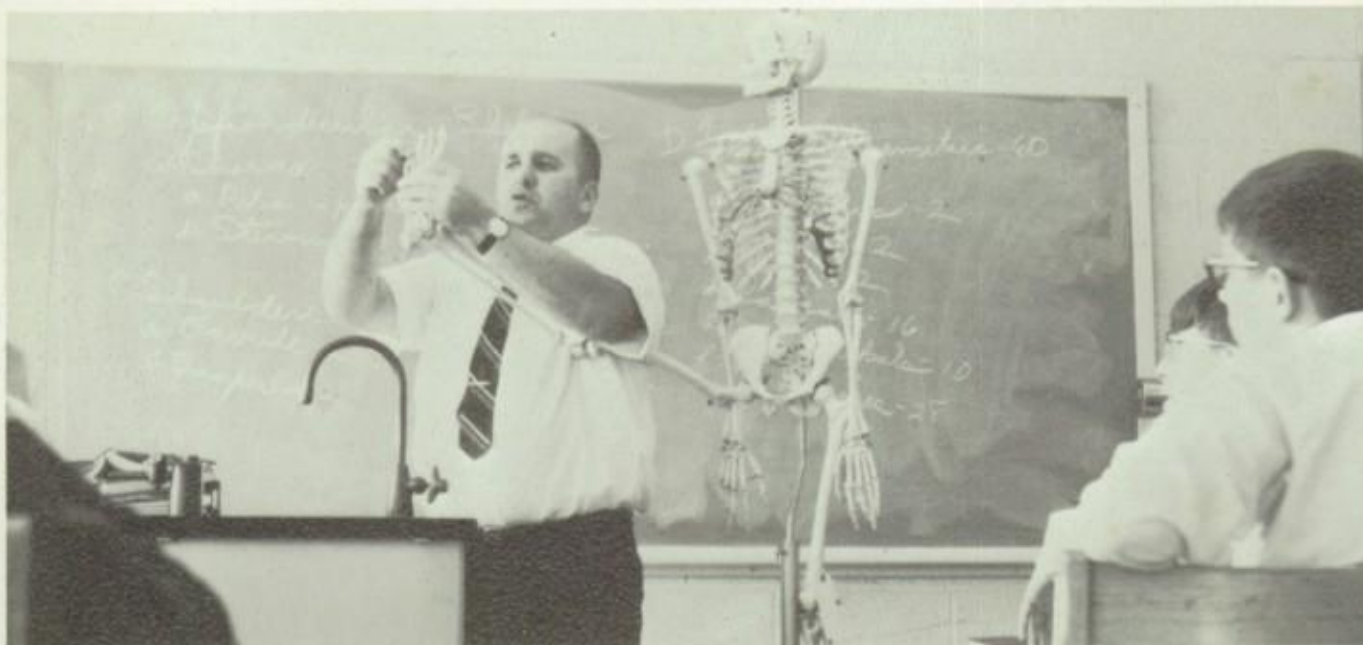

Industrial arts helped boys to develop their manual skills and helped obtain a job in today's world. A full year of shop allowed experimentation with more detailed projects which develop better shop techniques.

I've got to get this thing clean.

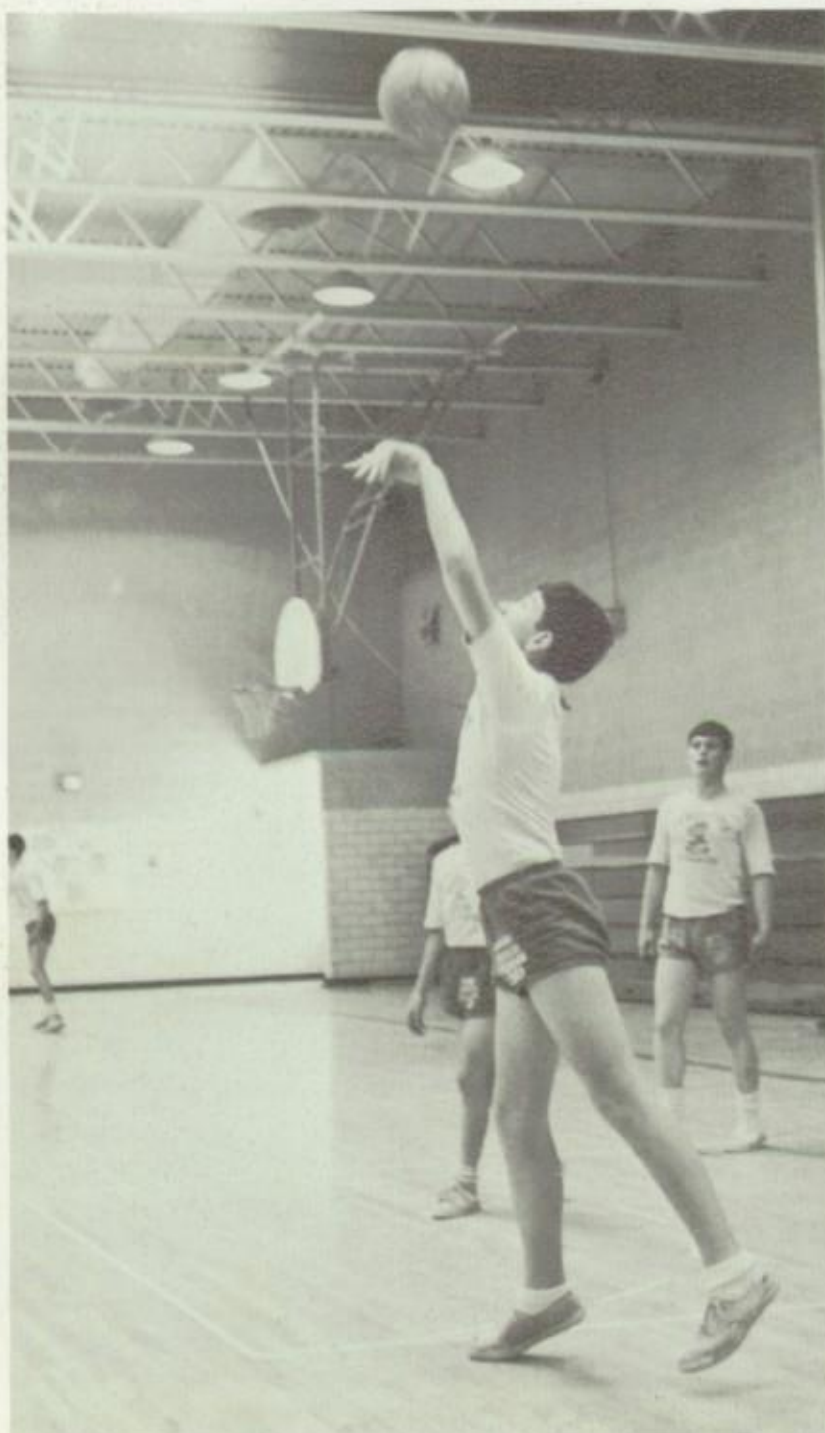

Boys in Health and P.E. Classes

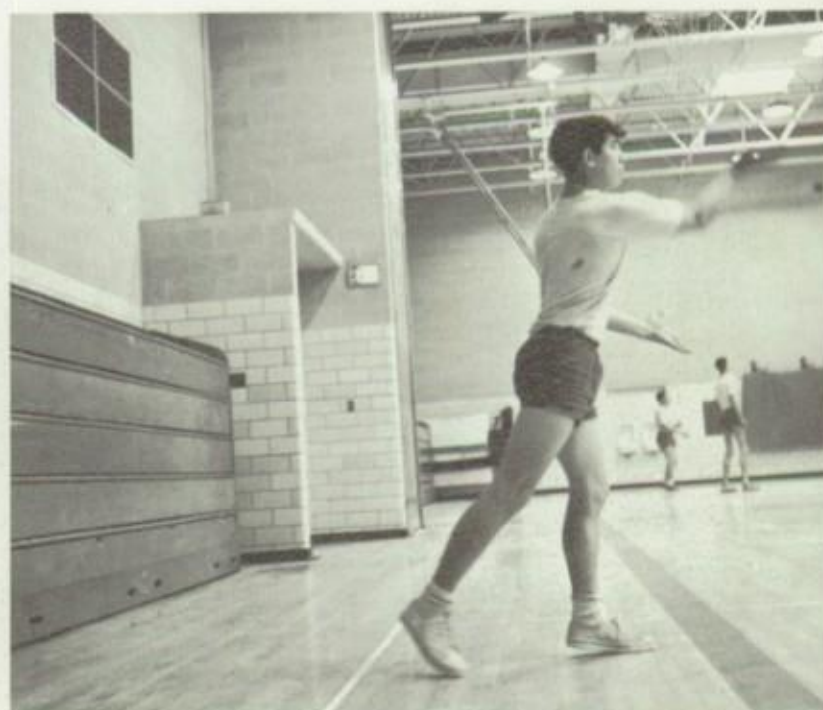

The boys in the physical education classes had a year of planned exercises and team sports. Boys were encouraged to take part in all varsity sports. Through the phys. ed. classes the boys at James River developed muscles as well as good sportsmanship.

Now the toe bone is connected to the . . . says Mr. Baker to his health class.

Set it up fellows!

It takes muscle to hit that ball over the net.

Come on Coach, I'm getting tired!

Happiness is Girls in Sports and Health

Make that shot good!

What do we do now, Mrs. Snider.

Let's hustle, girls!

Girl's sports and gym classes under the direction of Mrs. Snider have made notable progress at James River High School. Team sports enjoyed by the girls were volleyball, softball, and basketball. Gym classes included various exercises. Discussions in health classes were interesting and helpful to each girl.

Happiness Is Music

No. That didn't sound exactly right.

Performing at "Open House".

Practice! Practice!

Band classes were held daily at James River under the direction of a new teacher, Mr. Lowe. During its second year the band grew and improved. The band did much for school spirit by playing at pep rallies and home football games. James River patrons were entertained by the band at Open House. Band members represented their school well at band festivals and on TV.

All set for a parade.

August 28, 1967, the first day of the 67-68 school year, was a day of "goal reaching" for a group of James River students called the Seniors. September 19 was a memorable day, to most of the Senior class, also. They received, that day, the main symbol of a Senior--the class ring. Senior portraits were purchase in December. The Senior girls will especially remember the week of the class tournaments in which they defeated all rivals. Cards and invitations were ordered and received. Most of the Seniors looked to their last prom at James River with anticipation. The last school assembly was met with mixed emotions. Baccalaureate, final examinations, a garment known as a cap and gown, and then graduation. The quick motion of changing the position of a tassel and a paper called a diploma marked the end of school at James River High School for the graduating Seniors.

Kay Eubank, the President, got the eleventh grade class off to a good start this year planning the money making projects. As a result, the Junior class was able to give the seniors one of the best proms yet! The Thanksgiving turkey and Easter ham dinner raffels are now standard money making projects of the Junior class. For the first time in the history of James River High School, the Junior class has produced a girl SCA President, Nancy Dunbar. It was a close election with Tommy Hill running close behind Nancy! Yes! All the way. The 1969 editor, Wesley Kern and business manager, Anne Ray Marshall know from experience the hard work that lies ahead, but both, with the assistance of a well oriented staff, are determined to publish the best yearbook ever.

Successfully Reached

The Sophomores of James River High, have finally reached the turning point of their high school life. They have found their position in the school and ready and mature enough to make decisions and achieve their goal, to become the seniors their school will be proud of, examples of achievement. Aware of their responsibility as underclassmen, they are preparing the budget for the wants of the upperclassmen. For the first time in the history of their high school, the Sophomores have held class meetings in which their opinions, ideas, and enthusiasm have been expressed. This participation prepares them for the leadership of tomorrow.

Complete the First Rung on the Ladder

Mammoth halls and strange faces greeted the nervous eighth graders on their first and most exciting day of school at James River. Even though it took quite a while to adjust to their environment, eighth grade boys were still able to participate in football, basketball, and track. The G. A. A. girls also ran track and played basketball among other sports such as volleyball, badminton, ping pong, etc. Eighth graders are headed for success!

Happiness Is Serving

Objectives of the SCA Were Successful This Year

Nelson Watts, SCA President carries on meeting of the Council

New officers of SCA of '69

The primary function of the Student Council Association is to serve as a link between the student body and the faculty in an endeavor to coordinate the efforts of the two groups to provide better service for the school.

This year the SCA had a number of objectives and most of them were successful. One project it had was to send Christmas cards to the men in Vietnam. This was quite successful.

One proof of the successful year of the SCA was the certificate that Nelson received showing that SCA had met all the requirements set by the state.

Library Staff Served the School

Before

After

One of the most important functions of James River High School is the school library. To help the readers find and select periodicals, newspapers, famous fiction and non-fiction, and the much used reference material, are the library assistants, supervised by Miss Kathy Mulchay. The new Librarian has been gaining in her first opportunity in a high school. The assistants do desk work, file cards, take care of the magazines, prepare bulletin boards, and check and replace the returned books.

Miss Mulchay, librarian, and Judy Hood, assistant librarian work hard each day to keep the library in good "working condition."
Students enjoyed reading and looking at magazines

Sandy Rycroft and other student librarians served the school each day.

Members of the FTA look in on an elementary class in session.

Mrs. Rankin and members of the FTA have a conference

The satisfaction of knowing that he advanced the education of the learner is the greatest compensation that a teacher receives. Mrs. Rankin, advisor of the FTA, introduced club members to both the rewards and the problems of teachers. They did this by visiting elementary schools, here they got a first hand view of how a class is taught.

Other projects of the Future Teachers of America was to attend the District Convention and to give a scholarship to a senior entering the teaching profession. All of these projects were accomplished this year.

The FTA sponsored a tea for the teachers

Roundtable Kept the Presses Rolling

Mrs. Thompson, sponsor, makes sure there are no mistakes.

Hot off the press!

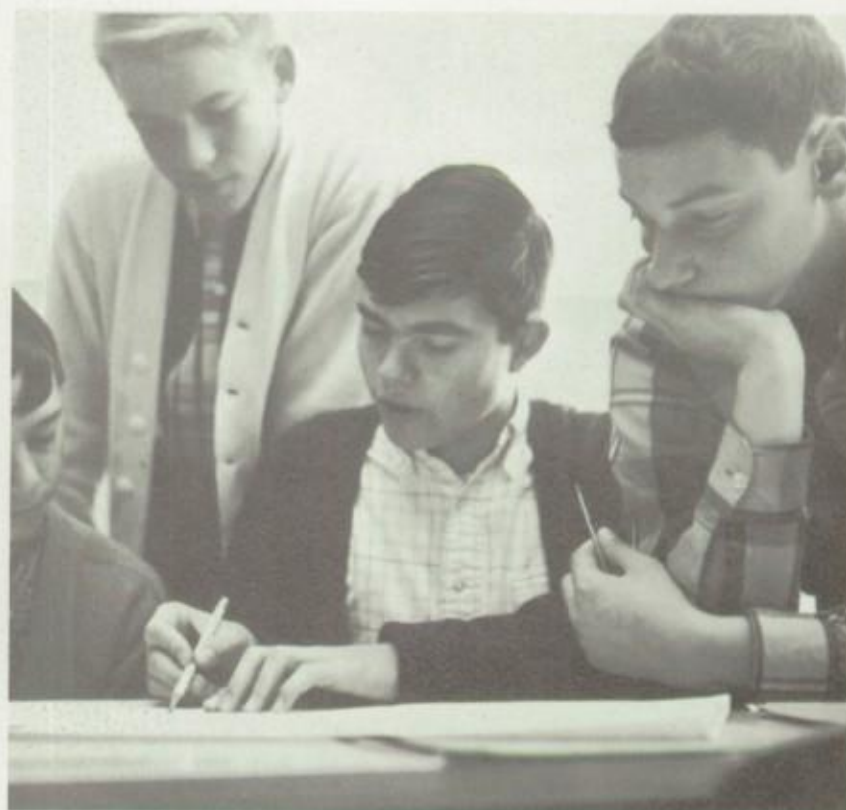

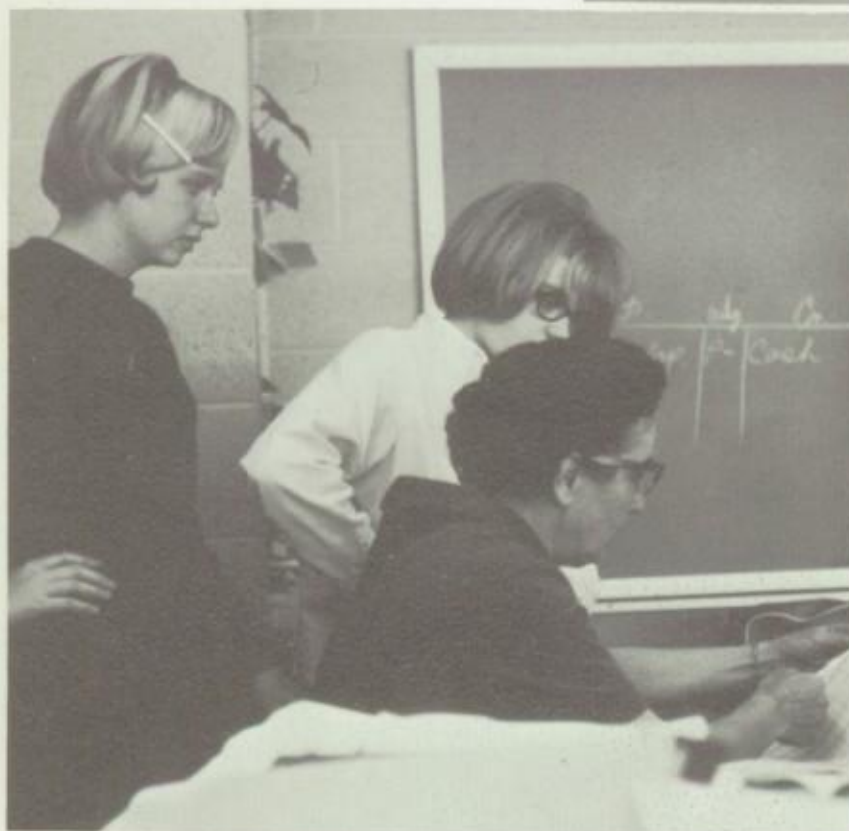

The ROUNDTABLE, which has been in existence since the fall of 1959, is James River's only newspaper. Its chief purpose is serving the student body. In each issue there is a variety of editorials and feature articles, along with the school's activities, including a complete coverage of all sports.

The ROUNDTABLE is a member and first place award winner of the Southern Interscholastic Press Association. The majority of its staff members are members of the International Honorary Society for High School Journalist, Quill and Scroll.

The cafeteria staff of James River is one to be proud of. Besides preparing nutritious and tasty food each day, they created a pleasant atmosphere in the cafeteria.

Diane and Wesley help make school life more pleasant with a little good bits of news and ice cream.

Our faithful bus drivers--why can't they be late sometime?

The people that helped keep J.R.H.S. going were the custodians, bus drivers, and student helpers.

The student tutors give up much of their study hall time to help other students.

James River bus drivers were loyal men and students who helped promote school spirit. They proudly carried forward their work.

Our custodians performed their daily tasks of making our school safer, cleaner, and generally more pleasant.

Happiness Is Belonging

BETA

The Beta Club sponsored by Mr. Shields boasted a membership of forty-five. All the members must maintain a B average.

The Beta Club's main project for this year was the tutoring of all students who wanted and needed help in their studies. This tutoring system proved to be very effective. The Beta Club had two money-making projects. During the fall the members sponsored a bake sale, and during the spring they sold cookie cook books. This money provided a scholarship for a graduating senior and paid the chapter's dues to the National Beta Club.

In May the Beta Club held its installation service. In this impressive assembly the out-going Beta seniors tapped eighteen new members from the Sophomore and Junior classes. During the service, this year's President, Pam Simmons installed the new president for the 1968-69 sessions, Linda Coggin. And so the Beta Club ended another year of leadership and service at James River with the hope that their efforts had not been in vain.

A Busy Year

The 1967-68 officers of the F.H.A.

One of the many bulletin boards of the F.H.A.

The Future Homemakers of America, sponsored by Mrs. Helen Deisher and Mrs. Dorothy Kinzie, had a very successful year. The main objective of the club this year was MAKE YOUR MONEY BEHAVE. This was to help youth understand and practice selective spending.

Among the activities of the club this year was the selling of dish cloths and flavoring. One of the highlights of the year was National F.H.A. Week. To emphasize the importance of this week, the teachers at James River wore a red rose, the flower of the F.H.A.

A special meeting was held for the election of the new officers for the following year. The new officers were Charlotte Seay, president, Wanda Smith, vice president, Patsy Teaford, secretary, Rosanna Conlon, treasurer, Kathy Hyde, reporter, Barbara Thompson, song leader, Betty Autin, historian, and Patty Hill, pianist.

Becky Thompson, 1967-68 president, hands Charlotte Seay, 1968-69 president, The gavel of the club.

The F.F.A. Had a Successful Year

F.F.A. members caring for the trees.

The F.F.A., sponsored by Mr. Samuel McGhee, had a very successful year. They carried out one of their main objectives of planting and cultivating trees to add to the beauty of our school. Another important event was the annual Father-Son Banquet.

The president this year was Charles Trail. The other officers were Richard Simmions, Steve Teaford, Donald Peery, Louis Saville, and Carlton Hill.

Glee Club

The Glee Club this year was composed of forty-seven members under the direction of Mr. George W. Lowe.

The main projects of the club were the Christmas Program and the Baccalaureate Service. For the Yule-Tide Season selections ranged from "Up on the Rooftop" and "White Christmas" to the sacred "O Little Town of Bethlehem". The Seniors' Baccalaureate Service was the object of such songs as "I Believe" and "You'll Never Walk Alone".

Five of the members were chosen to go to the All State Regional Chorus which was held at Northside High School in Roanoke, Virginia. They were Sherry Vines and Anita Barger, who were the sopranos while Sara Vaughn was an alto. Tommy Hill and Wesley Kern sang bass and tenor respectfully. The chorus sang such outstanding numbers as "Who Will Be a Witness for My Lord" and "Lark Day".

The concert held on February 25 wound up a week-end of fun, rehearsal and many experiences which aren't likely to be forgotten.

Next year Mr. Lowe has a much better year planned for the Glee Club.

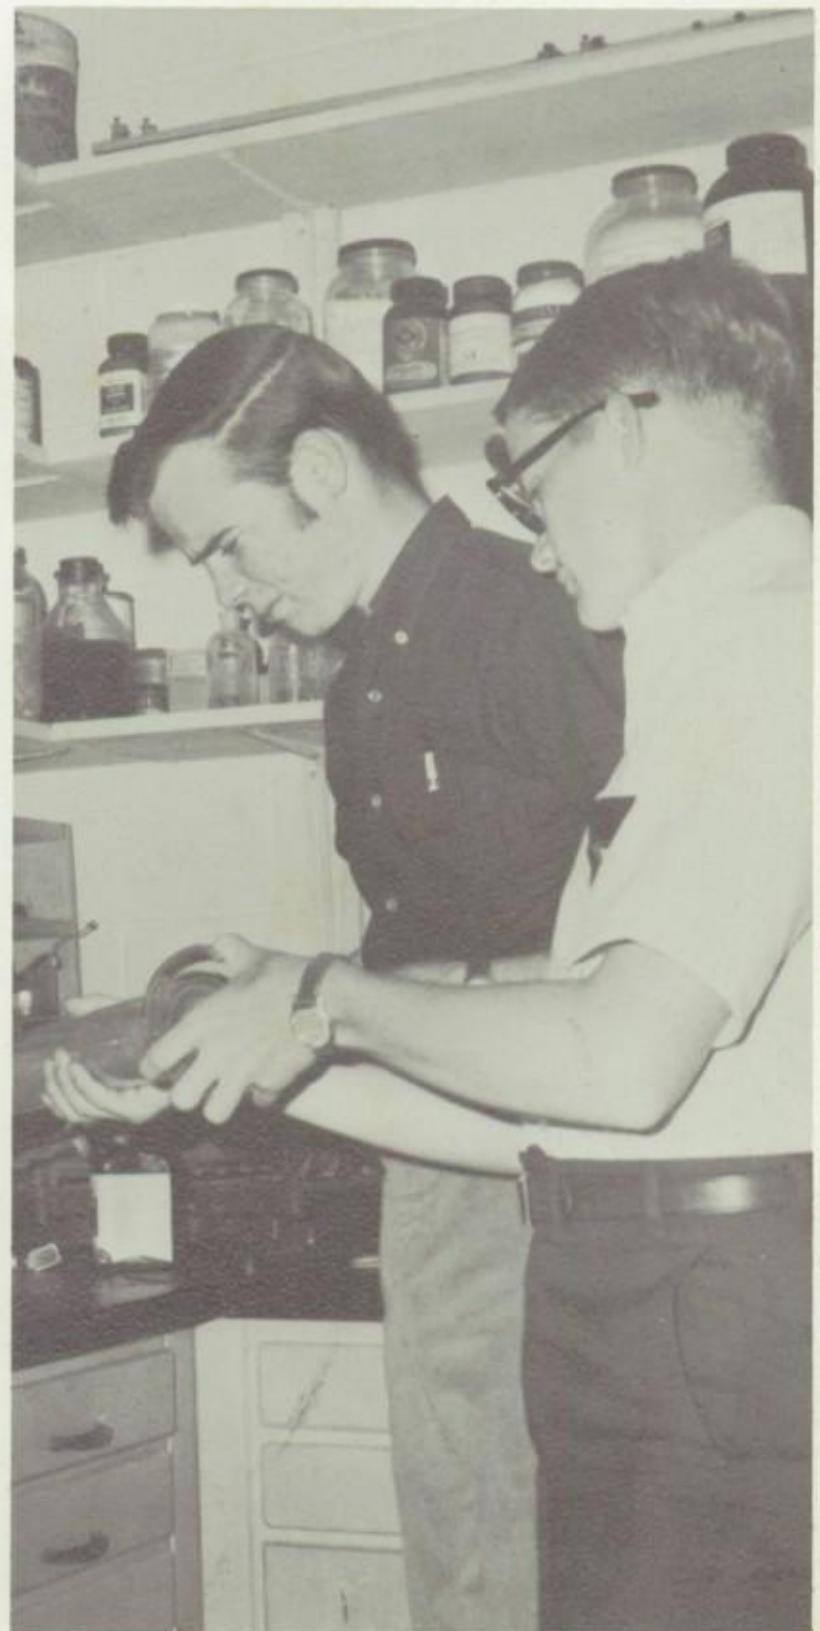

Science Club

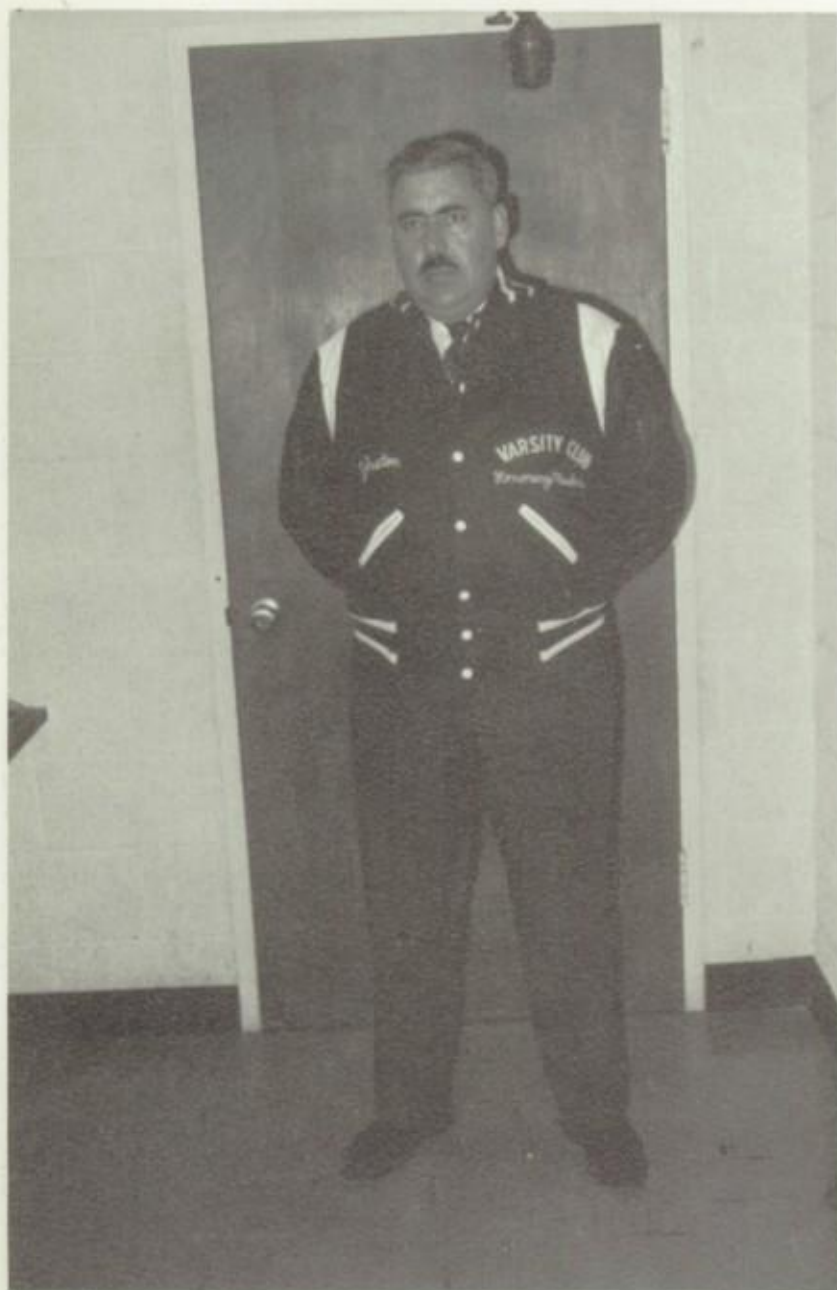

The Science Club helps to promote an interest in science. The Science Club members worked on different scientific projects to advance their minds further in science.

The chief project of the Science Club this year was the preparation for the Botetourt County Science Fair, held in the school gym on March 14, 15, and 16. The club also sponsored the Sadey Hawkins Dance. On May 10 several club members went on a trip to the Peaks of Otter to happily end a busy year.

Varsity Club and FCA-

What was started because of one man's dream has become to millions of young men throughout the United States a reality. The Fellowship of Christian Athletes, a newly organized club at James River, consisted of all interested participating athletes. One of the major objectives of our huddle group was to send our boys to FCA camp at Black Mt., North Carolina, where they were coached and directed by some of America's best athletes. The FCA fostered in young athletes a desire to discover the true meaning of God in their lives. With this objective one of our projects was to circulate members throughout the county and Roanoke to speak to church groups about what our FCA chapter has meant to the many athletes here at James River.

Closely related to the FCA is the Varsity Club. The Fellowship of Christian Athletes's membership included every Varsity Lettermen. This organization has held shooting matching, work projects, and several other worthwhile events that better unite the young men playing sports at James River. This club helped give the varsity teams a feeling of unity and a desire to better themselves that can only be brought about by working together and for each other as we do on the projects of this club.

Built Better Athletes

Y-Teens Built . . .

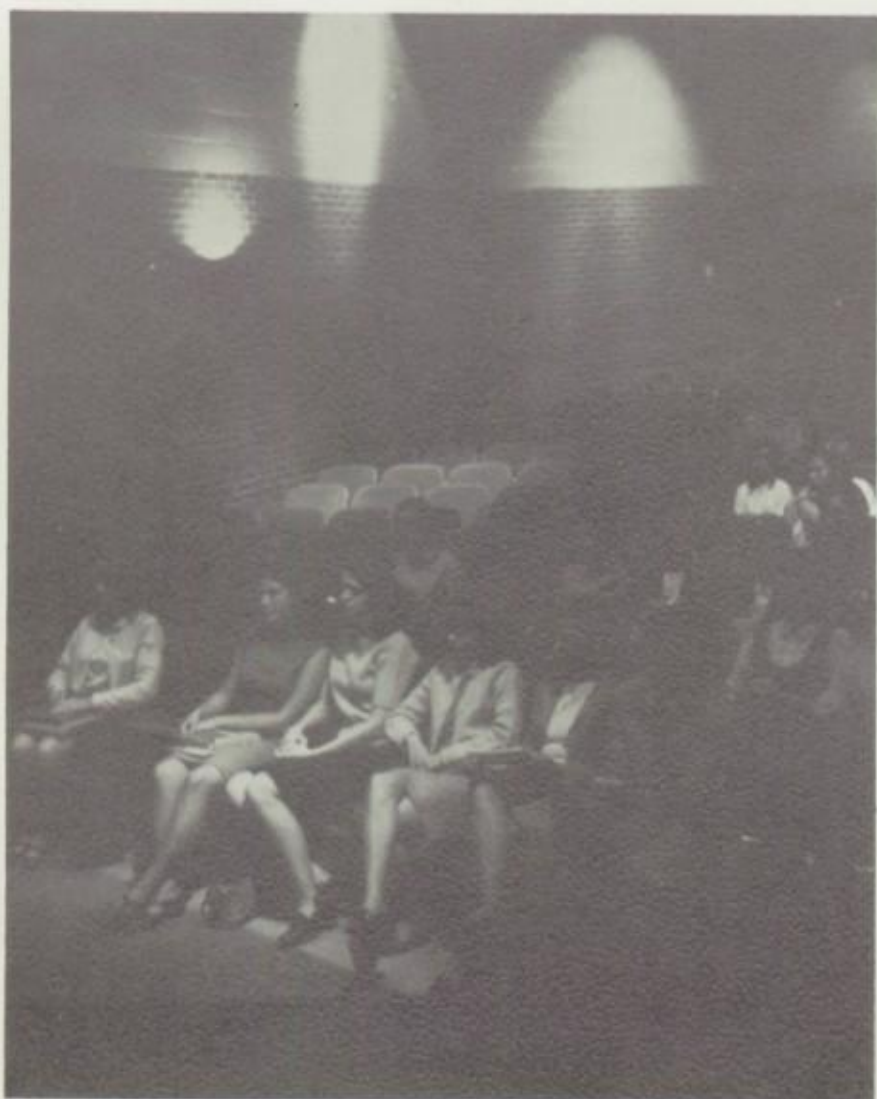

Friendship In Girls

The Y-Teens, a branch of the Young Women's Christian Association, is a club devoted to the growth of young girls as people, in friendship with all people, and in the knowledge and love of God.

The Y-Teens have been particularly busy this year. They collected the names, addresses and telephone numbers of the students and faculty members, and compiled these to form a student directory. In December, the Y-Teens sponsored a semi-formal Christmas dance. "Snow Ball" was decorated in blue and silver, the Y-Teen colors.

The sponsor, Mrs. Zatto, who works at the YWCA in Salem has helped the girls with their meetings and activities.

Outdoor Sportsman

The Outdoor Sportsman is a newly organized club just started this year to develop an awareness and appreciation for the outdoor sports.

Mr. Barnes, sponsor, works with about one hundred members which make up the club and consists of both boys and girls.

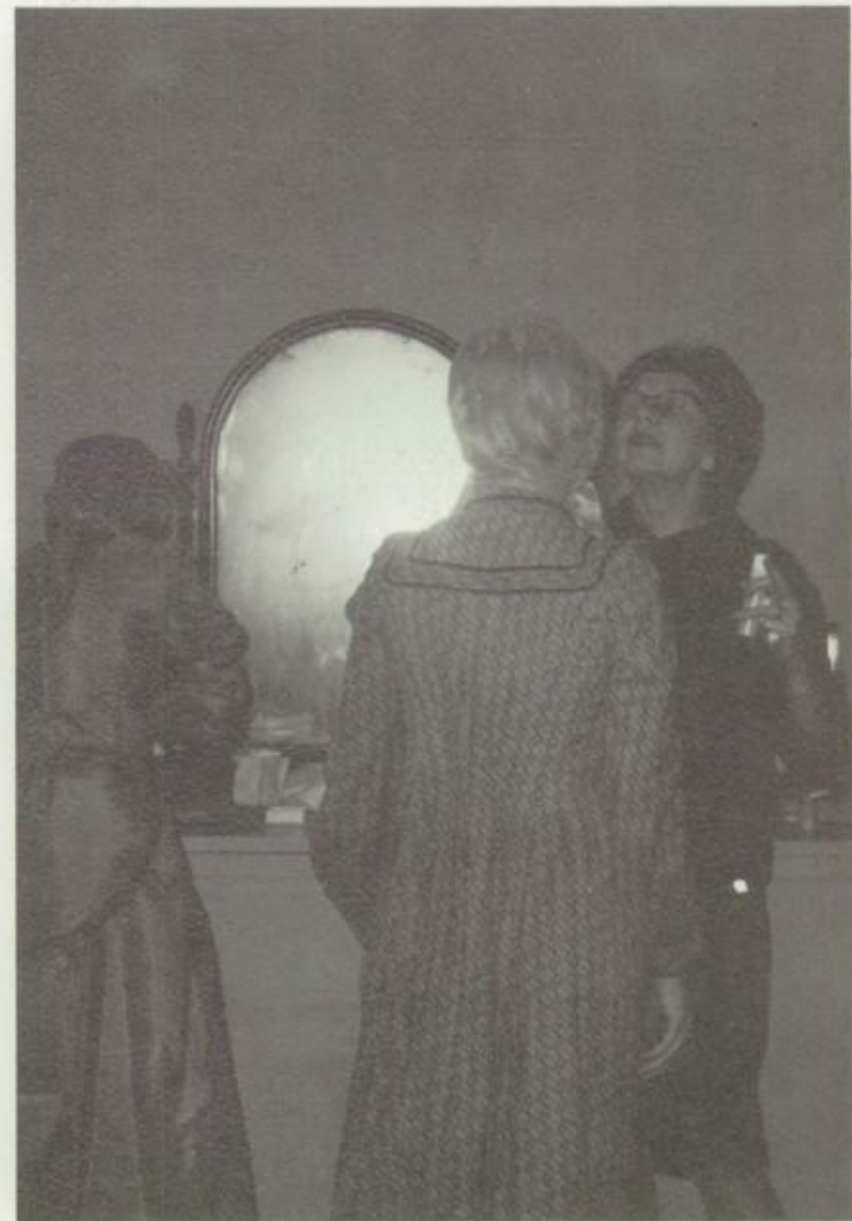

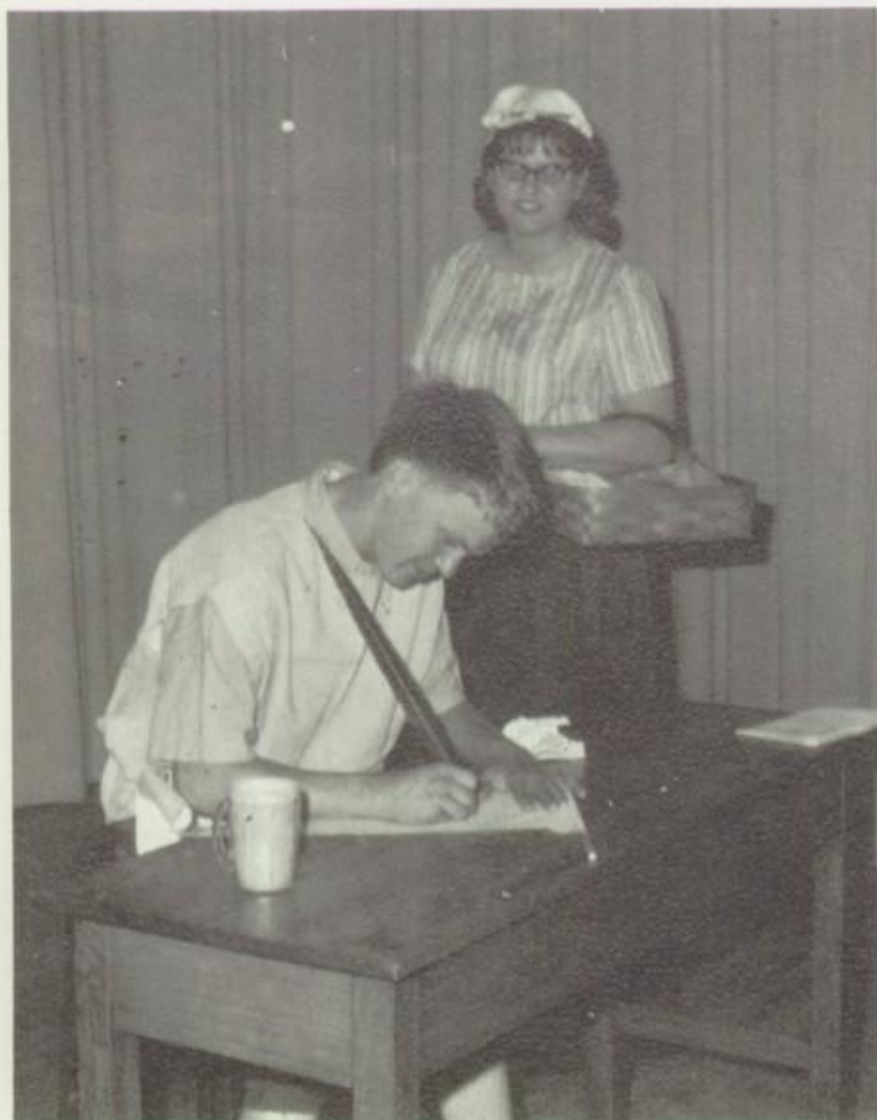

In club activities, speakers were present, films shown, and demonstrations given on various outdoor activities. During other activity periods fishing tackle was made and gun stocks refinished by those who wanted to work on them. Trees were planted around the side of the school, starting at the upper parking lot and going around the hill.

Members enjoyed their activities in the club and a bigger and better club is expected and looked forward to another year.

Thespians

Painting flats, cleaning floors, moving furniture or memorizing lines are all a part of Thespian's participation in producing and preparing for a play.

The society stressed participation in the arts of and the means of teaching students the appreciation of the theater, radio, motion pictures and television.

Many one act plays were given this year to the student body and were enjoyed greatly.

Although only one year old, James River's Troop no. 2562 has entered District competition and has brought honor to J.R.H.S..

Debating Team

Mrs. Madaline Bunn joined our staff of teachers this year and sponsored our first debate team which was tremendously successful. In debate, students learned to be organized, self-controlled, and logical, which apparently James River students learned rapidly. The team, consisting of Clyde Beamer and Nancy Dunbar won the District Five championship and the negative team of Tommy Dunbar and Philip Burkholder were not far behind as second in the district. The team participated in tournaments at the University of Richmond and William and Mary and a novice team entered in the Novice tournament at Roanoke Catholic High School.

G.A.A. — Girl's Athletic Association

The G.A.A.'s project, the sale of sweatshirts, proved to be very successful. These profits enabled the members of the club to have their annual banquet. This year the banquet was held at Buckaroo. At this banquet, the letters and awards were given to the members with 500 points earned in the participation of competitive sports. Mrs. Snider was the sponsor of the club this year.

Sherry Vines received an award for being the most athletic and Chloe Camper received an award for having the best sportsmanship.

Football, a great spectator sport at James River, started in late August, two weeks before the opening of school and ended the first of Nov. The team was composed of 28 members under the leadership of Coach John Baker. We were proud of this seasons record of 6-4. The season started discouragingly, but turned, and six teams met their match.

Football, J.V. Style

J. V. football players hope to win every game played, but their main objective is to lay a foundation for boys to build upon for championship varsity players. We feel our Junior Knights have definitely accomplished their main objective. Our record is not too impressive this year; one win--five losses,, but we are very proud of the football characteristics developed by these boys under their coach, Randolph Howard.

Football, Eighth Grade Style

Although only fourteen members strong at the first of the season, the eighth grade football team was truly one of spirit. The boys on the team were coached by Mr. Laplace. Even though they did not win a game this season, they kept their spirits high and played hard, never giving up and in losing times they were good sports.

Cross Country is a type of long distance racing in track, run on a course of about two and one-half miles. The members of the Cross Country team practice during football season, with little attention focused on their sport. Several members of the team placed in the top twenty-five at the District meet.

Team's in a Huddle!

The James River cheerleaders were really great this year and were helped by the many enthusiastic fans of the student body. They attended all games. They cheered at pep rallies at which they tried to promote school spirit and good sportsmanship. Many long hours of practice helped make the season a busy one.

Ready! Hit It!

Come on Knights!

The J. V. Cheerleaders help a great deal at pep rallies. These young people embody the school spirit and their enthusiasm, with yells and leadership during games. The purpose of these young cheerleaders is to create loyalty and interest and sportsmanship in school sponsored activity. Being a cheerleader means staying after school for long hours of practice, but it is well worth the effort when everyone helps out.

All together now

The J. V. Cheerleaders help to promote school sportsmanship through the younger members of the school.

James River Majorettes

All set to go.

Is everyone in step?

Members of the Knights Majorette Squad at J. R. H. S. really put forth a lot of effort this year. They marched with the band on several occasions. Precision drillwork and baton twirling are featured by these six majorettes who are: Front: Left to Right: Cheryl Mabry, Patti Watts; Back Row: Karen Prease, Cindy Marshall, and Kay Spangler. Kathy Sexton (not pictured). Their uniforms are red and white accented with the J.R. letter on the vest. The majorettes are under the direction of Mr. Lowe, who is also the band instructor.

This can be difficult.

Homecoming Festivities

The students enjoyed the Homecoming Dance, sponsored by the cheerleaders, after the Knight's victory over Rockbridge 33-0. The music was provided by disc jockeys, Susan Bryant and Mike Garber.

This year a change was made in the election of the Homecoming Court. The five girls were chosen from the senior class and then the student body voted on them. The result of the voting was kept secret until the halftime festivities when the float carrying the court was pulled onto the field by the J.V. football team. The Homecoming Court was Ann Alphin, queen, Dianne Hambrick, Donna Brooks, Kay Craft, and Nancy Divers.

The Telstars provide special music for the dance.

Seniors Enjoy

Soft (?) music-shades of blue-twinkling stars-these formed the setting for the Junior-Senior Prom given on May 18, by the Juniors in honor of the Seniors of '68.

The theme, STAIRWAY TO THE STARS, was carried out in the decor-even to an honest-to-goodness stairway rising toward a blue sky complete with rising moon and a galaxy of stars.

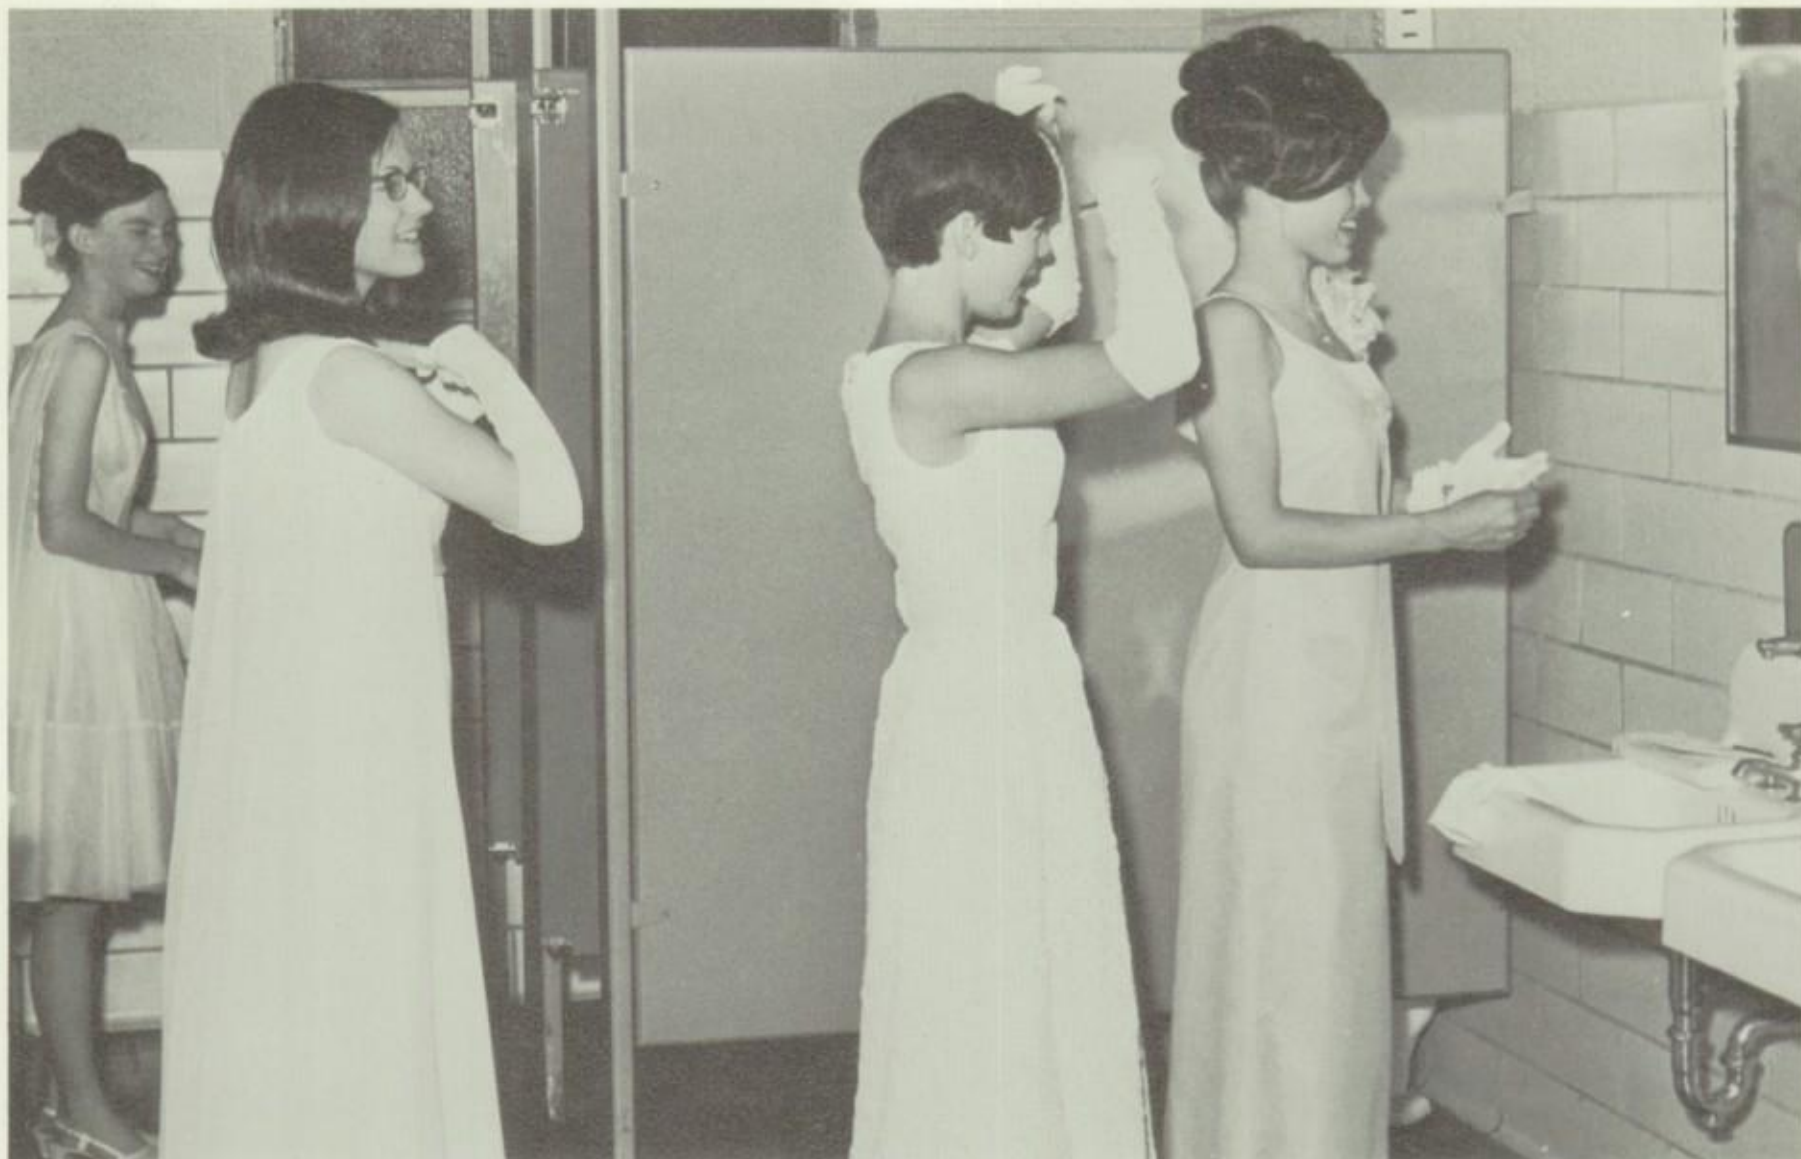

Admire, satin, lace, and trailing chiffon, coiffured ladies and their escorts danced to the music of THE BACHELORS of Roanoke.

Following the presentation of the Seniors and their escorts, Mr. Sprinkle crowned Kenny Sexton and Diane Hambrick King and Queen of the Prom.

Everyone stands as the Seniors march to the familiar graduation tune of "Pomp and Circumstance."

The Senior Class of '67-'68 made their walk out the doors of James River High as students. When they returned to the school they were no longer students but alumni. The year had come to a close.

Shooting for financial security?

One of our All-Star Agents can show you how.

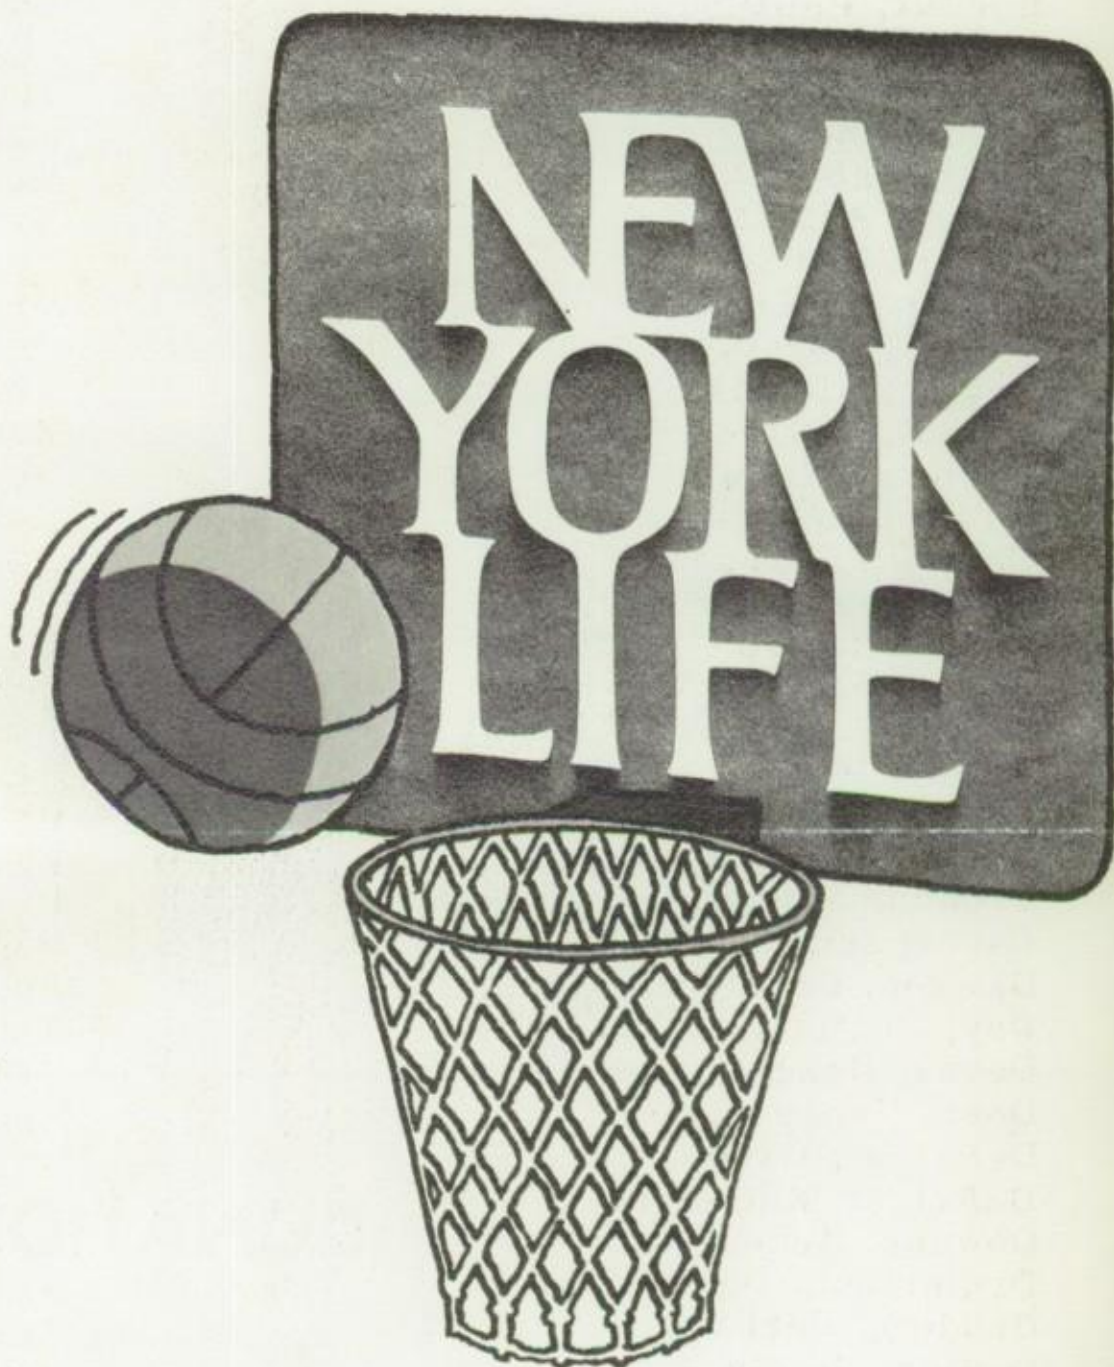

You can't afford to miss. Not with your family's financial security at stake. The man to coach you is one of our All-Star Agents.

We honestly feel we've got the finest team of life insurance agents anywhere. And they're everywhere. In all 50 states, Canada and Puerto Rico.

Right from the start, we select our Agents carefully. Then comes training and study. Then more training and study. By learning all they can about their business, our Agents can do a better job for you.

And by serving their clients well, they stay in winning form. When professional awards are given out, New York Life Agents earn far more than their share of the honors. Year after year.

That's what we mean by All-Stars. Tops in their league. Tops with our millions of policy owners. The kind of life insurance agent you should team up with!
